The Ateneo Department of Mathematics, in partnership with the School of Science and Engineering and the Ateneo Office of the AVP for University Partnerships and Internationalization were honored to host the Asian Technology Conference in Mathematics (ATCM) last December 13-16, 2025.

Founded by Professor Dr Wei Chi Yang in Singapore, the conference has grown to 30 iterations with 300 participants from 15 countries, all leading researchers of the field of mathematical technology converging in the Ateneo campus for the 4 day conference.

The ATCM was organized by its local organizing committee, led by Professor Ma. Louise Antonette De Las Peñas, also a member of the International Program Committee.

The conference secretariat was Dr Maria Alva Aberin. Finance was handled by Dr Mark Tolentino and Dr Mark Tomenes. Logistics were led by Dr Mark Loyola, accompanied by Mr Carlo Mallari, Mr Kurt de los Santos, Mr Jim Mijares, and Mr Janree Gatpatan.

The Ateneo Mathematics Society and the MathPlus laboratory provided much needed manpower for the event.

The OAVP-UPI was led by AVP Ma. Cristina M. Alikpala, with coordination by Ms Carolyn Natividad, Ms Vanessa Reventar, Ms Felicia Ramos, Ms Karla Roxas, and Mr Pete Panday.

The success of the conference is a testament to the strength of a common goals towards the advancement of math and math education.
